Twenty new hot/cold meal delivery trucks will be on the roads of West Virginia providing meals to senior citizens in year three of funding to establish trucks throughout the state. With these additional trucks, seniors in all fifty-five counties will now have access to important meal delivery services. The trucks were purchased through grants from the West Virginia Bureau of Senior Services as part of an ongoing effort to increase services to seniors in their own homes and communities. Governor Joe Manchin and Commissioner Sandra Vanin will present the keys to these trucks to the county aging providers on Thursday, August 5, at 10:00 a.m. at the State Capitol.

These hot/cold meal delivery trucks will be serving seniors in the following counties: Berkeley, Doddridge (Bi-County Nutrition), Boone, Brooke, Calhoun, Hampshire, Lewis, Mason, Monroe, Ohio, Pendleton, Preston, Putnam, Kanawha, Randolph, Tucker, Tyler, Webster, Wirt and Wyoming.

The trucks will be on display at the Capitol complex on August 5, from 9:00 a.m. until the time of the presentation of the keys. For additional information, please contact the West Virginia Bureau of Senior Services or visit the Bureau's web site at www.wvseniorservices.gov
