Facts about the Program

The Aged and Disabled Waiver is an in-home care program. Homemaker staff comes to your home to assist with your personal needs. This program is an alternative to nursing home care. This means that you have the same type of needs as someone in a nursing home but it does not mean that you must go into a nursing home.

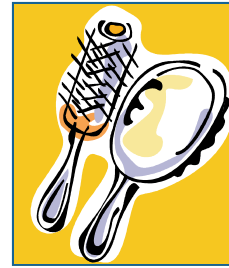

Application:

You may apply for the program by contacting the following resources:

- Aging and Disability Resource Centers
Toll free: 1-866-987-2372
Website: www.wvnavigate.org
- Bureau of Senior Services
Toll free: 1-866-767-1575
Website: www.wvseniorservices.gov
- An ADW Case Management Provider
Website: www.wvseniorservices.gov
- Your Local Department of Health and Human Resources (DHHR)
Website: www.wvdhhr.org/bcf/

Eligibility:

When you first apply for services, a Registered Nurse will contact you for an evaluation in your home.

To be eligible, an individual must have needs in at least five areas of activities of daily living. Activities of daily living include some of the following:

- Eating
- Bathing
- Dressing
- Grooming
- Mobility
- Toileting
- Other areas of need

To receive services from the Waiver Program, you must first meet the criteria for both medical and financial eligibility.

Services:

The services that you may receive from the Waiver Program include Case Management and Homemaker Services. Self-directed options are also available. The services are defined below:

- Case Management Services—A Case Manager is a licensed professional who assesses and identifies your needs, helps you plan for your care, and advocates for and connects you with services or resources in the community.

- Homemaker Services—A Homemaker is a trained care provider who assists you with bathing, dressing, grooming, eating, fixing your meals, or other personal care needs. Homemaker Services are supervised by a Registered Nurse.
